

Supernatural Airing Schedule

POSTED BY KIMBERLY LYNN WORKMAN ON OCTOBER - 13 - 2010

For those Supernatural fans who were dreading when their beloved show would take a break, fear not! The schedule has been released for episodes 4-10 and the breaks are few and far between with one week off over Thanksgiving and then the beginning of the Christmas/winter holiday hiatus starting after Episode 10 on December 3rd. No word yet on when the show will return in 2011.

“Weekend at Bobby’s” (6.04) October 15: Crowley still has Bobby’s soul and he’s not giving it back, so Bobby calls up Dean and Sam to help him out.

“Live Free or Twi-Hard” (6.05) October 22: Dean takes on a vampire...and loses. He doesn’t sparkle, but he does turn, and the only way to turn him back is to get the blood of the vampire that bit him.

“You Can’t Handle the Truth” (6.06) October 29: The Goddess of Truth is giving people the truth against their will, causing them to go insane and kill themselves. And in true Winchester fashion, Dean gets caught in the crossfire.

“Family Matters” (6.07) November 5: Is this the episode where we find out what’s up with those creepy Campbells? Tune in and find out!

“All Dogs Go to Heaven” (6.08) November 12: Supernatural plus dogs? Last time hounds were roaming around, favorite characters got torn to shreds. Hopefully these doggies are better behaved.

“Clap Your Hands If You Believe” (6.09) November 19: It has been said that this episode may involve leprechauns or fairies. Do you believe?

Mystery Episode! (6.10) December 3: We don’t know what the title or plot of the tenth episode will be, but I bet it will be grand. All their mid-season finales have been so far.

So, as we go into the long hiatus in December and possibly through parts of January, we can re-watch the old favorites and speculate where the back half of Season 6 will take us. If it’s anything like the first half, we’re in for a treat.
